An item.—The Spanges gathered at Key West, Fla., last year, realized $72,000.—Exchange.

Few people who have not given the subject their attention are aware of the extent of the trade in this article, or the variety of uses to which it is applied. Spanges are used quite extensively in the manufacture of felt hats and felt overcoats, while for the general purposes for which they are employed no substitute has been found for them. The qualities, too, differ as much as the purposes to which are applied, and the prices are as varied as the qualities. The finest qualities are sold as high as wholesale as $1.25 per ounce. A collection in the show-case of Tallman & Collins will illustrate the difference in quality and price. These druggists have an assortment which sell from five cents to four dollars, with no approach to difference in the size commensurate with the difference in price. Some in their collection have the softness of velvet and the fineness in texture of the most costly silk, while others resemble in their growth a coarse sieve or respectably small lattice work. The finer quantities are much used by surgeons in dressing wounds, and by the cleanly for bathing purposes. Their trade in this article is no inconsiderable item, and as a matter of curiosity merely their collection is worth examining.

PENMANSHIP.—This is an art in which we make no pretensions to excellence, or even a tolerable degree of proficiency, and perhaps our own deficiencies leads us to prize more highly the acquisitions of others where they exist. An essential requisite to good penmanship is a Good Pen. To contribute, to this extent, to a qualification altogether too rare in an intelligent community, S. C. Spaulding has supplied himself with a very large quantity of Foley's celebrated manufacture. These pens have received the highest commendations of bankers, lawyers and business men, and have been awarded the first premium by the American Institute and at the National Exhibition, (or World's Fair,) in New York in 1853. The stock of Mr. Spaulding embraces 12 different varieties, with holders or extension cases, adapted to every kind of writing, from the style of a lady to the bank ledger or envelope address, the prices ranging from $1 to $5. Mr. Spaulding is also receiving a general stock of very choice and beautiful goods, which will repay a visit to those who desire more particularly his superior pens.

COUNTY POOR IN DANE COUNTY.—We find in the proceedings of the Dane county board of supervisors the following item:

Mr. Ward presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That all resolutions heretofore passed by the board of supervisors of Dane county, whereby the distinction between town and county poor have been abolished, are hereby rescinded; and be it further resolved, That from and after the passage of this resolution, a distinction between town and county poor shall hereafter exist.

Mr. Byrne presented the following as a substitute:

Resolved, That the thirty-five towns, comprising the county of Dane, be set off from the city of Madison.

The consideration of the resolution and substitute was postponed until the January session of the board.

A SUDEN ASSAULT.—Winter has made a sudden assault upon us. This morning the thermometer at 7 o'clock stood at 4° below zero. Windows are crystallized with gems of beauty; cellars, where the house is not banked, have a decided chilly temperature; water pails are encrusted with a solid glassy surface; snow creeps under the foot; overcoats and "comforters" (animate and inanimate) are drawn close; stoves receive strict attention, and poker are in constant use. "Old Winter" has made a visit, sure, and come without notice or invitation.

SOUD.—Postmaster General Holt has adopted a short and sensible policy towards the disunion postmasters in the south who resign their offices. He informs them that if they will name successors, who will give the usual securities to the department, they will be accepted, and business permitted to go on as before. Otherwise, the offices will be discontinued.

TEXAS ELECTION.—The Galveston Civilian says Breckinridge's majority over Bell and Douglas combined will be over 30,000. Every county, as far as heard from, gives Breckinridge a majority. He received every vote cast in Brazos county.

Why would ladies make better traders and peddlers than men? Because they never get shaved.

THE FAMINE IN KANSAS.
To the People of Wisconsin.

Since the issue of my "Proclamation for the Annual Thanksgiving calling upon you, blessed in a hundredfold degree this year with the abundance of the fruits of the earth, to render thanks to the Bountiful Giver, the details have come to us of destitution and suffering in another portion of our country, where the rains have not fallen, and the parched earth has borne no crops. In the midst of our abundance, it is very difficult to realize the fact that but a few hundred miles from us, not less than one million of our fellow-creatures are at this moment suffering greatly from the total failure of their crops. Such a startling fact needs to be brought to the knowledge of a people who are overflowing with abundance, to cause speedily help to be sent to the needy.

Citizens of Wisconsin! the destitute, starving condition of thousands of the settlers of Kansas is a terrible fact, thoroughly attested by the liberal and patriotic contributions of money, to pay provisions and clothing and freight on donations forwarded, and of grain, food and provisions of every kind, are imperatively needed to save the lives of men, women and children who have literally nothing to eat, and nothing to sell to raise means for the purpose of food and clothing. In no better way can you exhibit your thankfulness for blessings conferred by Providence than by showing love and charity to the needy.

As the executive of the state, I urge that wherever Relief Committees have not been already formed, action to that end be taken at once. Contributions of provisions may be sent forward, in many cases free, on all the public thoroughfares, and should be marked "Kansas Relief," and addressed to "Gen. S. C. Spaulding, Attorney, Kansas." Money is much needed to pay freight on contributions now going forward, and may either be forwarded by the local committee, or direct (in drafts where practicable) to the order of Gen. Spaulding, as above. Whatever is done should be done speedily; for the lives of thousands of our fellow-beings are dependent upon our charity and love.

ALEXANDER W. RANDALL.
A HEAVY BOND.—The Madison Journal says that the bond of the Dane county treasurer has been fixed at $200,000.—Large as the amount is, Mr. Vroman, the republican candidate, will have no difficulty in finding sureties.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The Supreme court has adjourned to the 22d day of January.

THE ONLY TOWN IN ESSEX COUNTY N. Y., that gave an Anti-Lincoln majority is North Elba, the home of the late John Brown.

The birds that do the most service to agriculturists, and should be protected, are the night or meadow lark, chimney swallow, martin or swallow, whippoorwill, cockle, king bird or bee martin, woodpecker, chipmunk, or high-shoulder, cat bird, wren, bluebird, meadow or brown thrasher, dove, five-bird or summer red-bird, hanging bird, ground bird or chickadee, bobolink or rice bird, robin, snow or chipping bird, bluejay and the small owl. They do an excellent work among the insects, and serve the farmers' crops while they fill their own.

TO RENT.
A good dwelling house, convenient for the business part of the city, a good barn on the premises. Apply at the M. & M. Railroad office. nov12dtf W. D. STRONG.

THE FAMINE IN KANSAS.

To the People of Wisconsin.

Since the issue of my "Proclamation for the Annual Thanksgiving calling upon you, blessed in a hundredfold degree this year with the abundance of the fruits of the earth, to render thanks to the Bountiful Giver, the details have come to us of destitution and suffering in another portion of our country, where the rains have not fallen, and the parched earth has borne no crops. In the midst of our abundance, it is very difficult to realize the fact that but a few hundred miles from us, not less than one million of our fellow-creatures are at this moment suffering greatly from the total failure of their crops. Such a startling fact needs to be brought to the knowledge of a people who are overflowing with abundance, to cause speedily help to be sent to the needy.

Citizens of Wisconsin! the destitute, starving condition of thousands of the settlers of Kansas is a terrible fact, thoroughly attested by the liberal and patriotic contributions of money, to pay provisions and clothing and freight on donations forwarded, and of grain, food and provisions of every kind, are imperatively needed to save the lives of men, women and children who have literally nothing to eat, and nothing to sell to raise means for the purpose of food and clothing. In no better way can you exhibit your thankfulness for blessings conferred by Providence than by showing love and charity to the needy.

As the executive of the state, I urge that wherever Relief Committees have not been already formed, action to that end be taken at once. Contributions of provisions may be sent forward, in many cases free, on all the public thoroughfares, and should be marked "Kansas Relief," and addressed to "Gen. S. C. Spaulding, Attorney, Kansas." Money is much needed to pay freight on contributions now going forward, and may either be forwarded by the local committee, or direct (in drafts where practicable) to the order of Gen. Spaulding, as above. Whatever is done should be done speedily; for the lives of thousands of our fellow-beings are dependent upon our charity and love.

Receipts of wheat were still lighter to-day than yesterday, only about 300 bushels being on the market.

Prices of all grades of spring wheat firm; notwithstanding the recent unfavorable news from foreign markets, shippers bid freely at $5.00/100. But with large receipts we think present rates would hardly be sustained.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette, by

There is a disposition in some quarters, mainly among the democrats, but participated in by some of our weak-nerved, tender-footed republican friends, to claim that in view of the secession flurry in the cotton states, the republicans shall yield up the entire fruits of the brilliant victory which they have so gallantly won. It is suggested that Mr. Lincoln shall come out with a manifesto in which he shall turn his back upon republican principles, beg the pardon of the slave holders for being elected president, assure them that they shall have the entire control of his administration, and that he will recommend to congress to pass a slave code protecting slavery in the territories. And it is thought by these interesting specimens that the free states ought to repeal all laws to punish kidnapping, and send an invitation to the slave traders to kidnap and carry off as many "niggers" as they please without interference; and, although they do not say it, we have no doubt if the south should really demand it, they would be willing to throw in a few dozens of what our southern gentlemen are pleased to call "white slaves," "greasy mechanics," etc.

Never were men more mistaken in their lives than those who expect any severing from or abandonment of their principles by republicans. Our late national convention framed a platform of principles eminently moderate and conservative in spirit, but broad and national in its scope; acknowledging the constitutional rights of all sections of the country, in their fullest extent; calculated in their operation to develop the resources, and add to the growth and increase of the whole country; guaranteeing inviolate the right of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions, according to its own judgment exclusively. In short, putting forth principles which breathe throughout their whole scope and breadth, the spirit of true democracy, and inspiring, wherever they were heeded, a larger love of justice and a higher devotion to constitutional liberty.

Upon this platform was placed an able statesman, all of whose life, public and private, has been characterized by moderation and conservative tendencies, and with all, not only the very soul of frankness and honesty, but far above all suspicion or taint of chicanery or double-dealing. Him we have elected; and we are ready to stake all we hold valuable upon his truth and fidelity to friends and principles. It is the great desire of the people of this country to have the slavery question settled, and no time more propitious for its settlement can ever arise. Our country was never, in a business point of view, in a more healthy and prosperous condition than now, and if the settlement of this question must produce a financial panic, we were never better and probably never shall be in a better condition to sustain it. But they who believe this settlement is to be made by yielding to the demands which the slave holders make upon us, had better discard the idea at once, and prepare for a different issue. We are disposed to think we have not been in a much better situation with regard to the southern states than secession will bring, for the last half dozen years. During that time no northern man could go into a southern state and establish himself in business without imperiling not only his life but his property, no matter how prudent or conservative he might be; the most ignorant, miserable hound in all the south had the power, by whispering "abolitionist," to incite an unreasoning, brutal mob to the destruction of his property, violence to his person, and the taking of his life; while freedom of conscience, of action, of speech, of the press, has been totally annihilated. What worse condition secession can bring about, in regard to these states, we are unable to conceive.

We do not regard the right of secession as one open for discussion. It is an absurdity to talk about this right—people may secede from the government by leaving the country, but the territory comprising each state has been irrevocably submitted to the jurisdiction of the government established by the constitution of the United States. And so long as that government exists, it must exercise jurisdiction over, and enforce the laws of congress in all the states of the Union.

There is, in our opinion, but one course to pursue, and that is if any of the states attempt to secede, station armed vessels in its ports, collect duties, as before, and if the people of the state do not want post offices, judicial and other offices, let them wait until they get ready to receive them, and are willing to obey the laws of congress, and then give them again the benefits of the general government.

POLICE STATION IN MILWAUKEE.—Mr. Langworthy, Sheriff of Milwaukee county publishes a statement concerning the treatment of persons arrested by the city officers and confined in the police station which should lead to an investigation, and a reform if the abuses complained of really exist. He says: "Prisoners come to the county jail almost daily, complaining of inhuman treatment at the police station.—That they are kept there from twenty-four to thirty-six hours without food, which is corroborated by the inordinate appetite they exhibit when brought to us. A woman, brought up yesterday in this condition, testified that she left a girl there who had been there five days without a bed, fire or proper food. Besides, after a most urgent remonstrance for a long period of time, the prisoners come up covered with lice and bed-bugs 'large enough to eat corn.' There is no excuse for this state of things, and, as a last resort, I make it public in hopes to correct it."

The Conspiracy Against Kansas.
To an unbiased observer the recent intelligence from Kansas looks very much like a conspiracy. The news of the outbreak is accompanied by statements drawn up in form; the particulars written out and signed by several persons; some are government officers; others are citizens of Missouri, living hundreds of miles apart; but all agreeing that the "abolitionists" have attacked and are driving citizens of Missouri out of Kansas; and that they have been supplied with arms from Boston in the shape of boxes of clothing, &c. These details all appear by telegraph, along with the account of the outbreak, as if the whole thing had been prepared before hand. We suspect that it has been got up to order from Washington, for political purposes.—It is easy, at any time, to do this. The border ruffians are only to receive a hint to make a foray into Kansas, and they do it. The people of that territory, taught by bitter experience that there is no safety when such an irruption takes place, fly to arms to defend themselves and their homes.—They are now pressed by famine on one side, and the orders of the general government on the other to sell their homes, and at the same time their old enemies also arrive upon the field; it is not surprising that in their madness they should drive out of the country all who are not known to be their friends.

It is a noteworthy fact, also, that while the border ruffians side of the story all appears like a regular and connected history, the other side has not been published. These poor people, it is evident, have not been deliberately preparing for this strife, and have therefore had no time to write out their own defence. Doubtless we shall soon hear from them, when it will be apparent, as it has often times before, that they have been attacked at their homes, and have only combined for self defence when it became necessary, while the border ruffians have premeditated their movements, and have at the same time filled the public ear with falsehoods, that the people of Kansas may stand prejudged by the country, before the whole truth can be known. This is the way it looks to us, although we have no information, except the history of past transactions in Kansas of a similar nature.

What can be the object? There are several: 1st. There is a famine in Kansas and if the people are not relieved they will perish or be driven out by their old enemies. There is a concerted movement in the north to relieve them, which is likely to be successful. An outbreak at this time will materially injure the projects of their friends, and the border ruffians, knowing this, have incited it, expecting to reap their advantage over a starving people, and in the end convert Kansas into a pro-slavery state.

2d. The southern nullifiers are at work, and it would not be at all surprising if they are at the bottom of it, for the purpose of instigating civil strife on the borders, attributing it to the "abolitionists," and thus uniting the whole south with them in their schemes of dissolution.

3d. The administration of Mr. Buchanan would like a victim just now. The "old public functionary" would rejoice at this time to transfer the threatened war in South Carolina into Kansas, and shoulder the whole difficulties of the country upon the "abolitionists" and the Boston "Kansas aid society."

We trust, however, that the people, every where, will turn a deaf ear to these schemes, and remember only that there are people perishing in Kansas for the want of food and clothing, and that they will cheerfully and liberally give for their relief.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.—The following decisions of cases in the first judicial district have been announced in the supreme court:

A NOVELTY.—There is one town in Wisconsin which has given Breckinridge a large vote. This town is Centralia, Wisconsin, where the vote was Lincoln 68, Breckinridge 47, Douglas 38.

WILD HORSES IN KANSAS.—A correspondent, writing from Grasshopper Falls, Kansas, says:

In conversation with a gentleman residing upon the verge of the Delaware reservation, we gleaned some information regarding the celebrated drove of wild horses which frequent these parts. Many unsuccessful attempts have been made to capture them. American horses of the best mettle have been brought into use in running them down, but no sooner pursued than they run at right angles with the divides, up hills, down valleys and through timber, with a speed unknown to any other animal.—Among them is one—a chestnut stallion, somewhat larger than the Morgan stock—which has been the universal mark of the pursuer; but though followed by the fleetest of our runners, he has never been known to break from a pacing step. Strongly agitated he has resorted to repeatedly, with out success, and he is now left to fly over the prairie at his will, bearing the dignified title of "Chestnut King." Several of his colts have been secured, which promise a rich reward to their owners. Though taken quite young and reared with native horses, the wildness of their nature is made apparent upon all favorable occasions. An officer at Fort Leavenworth has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the capture and delivery to him of "Chestnut King."

The Trouble in Kansas.
A gentleman from Linn county, Kansas, who arrived in this city, from that region on Thursday, gives us the following among others as the causes in which the recent troubles in southern Kansas had their origin: The first of these causes is the sale of the public lands at this time, when the people occupying the lands as pre-emptors, are in a starving condition, and of course wholly unable to raise the amount to purchase same. Another cause, is the burning of seventy-four dwellings, all belonging to free state men, on what is known as the "Eight Mile Strip." This was a tract set apart for the New York Indians, but never accepted or occupied by them. In 1859, Gov. Denver made a speech in Linn county, and told the settlers that these lands might be occupied by pre-emptors in advance of the extinguishment or withdrawal of the Indian title—that it would soon come into market, and that possession could be taken with perfect confidence that no difficulty would occur. Under this statement, or rather pledge of Gov. Denver, about fifteen hundred persons, on the first of June, when the census was taken, occupied these "New York Indian Lands." Last spring it was discovered that almost the entire population were free state people, and of course this fact aroused the ire of "Old Pub. Func." and his administration, and immediate measures were taken to drive them from their possessions, such settlers being regarded as inimical to a slavery propagating government.

The attempt to drive them off in the spring not having been successful, it was renewed again about three weeks since, when orders came from the powers at Washington, telling the Cherokee Indian agent to send a company of 50 U. S. dragoons to accomplish the wishes of the administration. The dragoons, in doing their work, as we have stated, burned 74 dwelling houses, every one of which belonged to a free state resident; and it is not known that the residence of a single border ruffian has been disturbed. Another reason is, that the Missourians are in the habit of coming into the territory to hang, shoot, rob and kidnap its people—several attempts of this kind having occurred quite recently. The new law of Arkansas, which went into operation not long since, requiring the free negroes of that state to choose a master or leave the state—has sent a large number of that class of persons into southern Kansas, and particularly into Linn county; and the Missourians have been in the habit of coming into the territory for the purpose of kidnapping these poor negroes. These same kidnappers, in their incursions, have been in the habit of visiting Montgomery and Dr. Jennison, for the purpose of annoying them, and have also made attempts to assassinate them.

These and various other similar reasons are assigned by the free state people of Kansas in justification of the demonstration which Montgomery and his friends are now making against the border ruffians, and their allies, the officers of the present administration, residing in that territory.—Chicago Tribune, Nov. 24th.

THE RECEPTION OF MR. LINCOLN AND MR. HAMLIN YESTERDAY.—The visit of the President and Vice President elect to this city, their first interview since their nomination, has made Chicago the center of much interest during the past week. Yielding to the very general desire of our citizens to see the gallant standard bearers of republicanism, yesterday morning was fixed upon for a reception at the parlors of the Tremont House, between the hours of 10 and 12. The day was the most inclement of the season thus far, cold, snowing, and with general winter aspects abroad, yet the people were not at home.

From the earliest hour named until noon a constant stream of visitors poured in at the Lake street entrance of the Tremont House. The ladies, we were glad to see, had their full share in the representation, and the affair was an ovation throughout. For two hours and a half the line moved through the middle parlor on the Dearborn street front, where Mr. Lincoln stood and shook hands with each as they passed him. At his right stood Mr. Lincoln, and next Mr. Hamlin. Everything moved off pleasantly and creditably to all concerned. With his acquaintances, Mr. Lincoln exchanged a single word.

We were glad to notice that Mr. Lincoln seems in excellent health as does Mr. Hamlin, though the excitement and actual labor and pressure incident to the campaign, especially increased as the successful close drew near, must have been sufficient to severely test the strongest constitution.

Mr. Lincoln returns to Springfield, and Mr. Hamlin goes immediately east from this city.—Chicago Tribune, Nov. 24.

DOUGLAS ON LINCOLN.—A correspondent of the Albany Journal states that a few evenings since, in company with one of Albany's most eloquent and reputable clergymen, and several other gentlemen, the reverend gentleman said that in the year 1858, in New York, in conversation with the Hon. S. A. Douglas, Mr. Douglas remarked that he knew a man named ABRAHAM LINCOLN, who, should he ever be nominated for the Presidency, "would go to the White House with flying colors;" and he further added: "I recognize in him all the great qualities that distinguish the upright honest statesman, and he is a man of uncompromising firmness and great decision of character, inasmuch that his political opponents, with all their spirit of party malevolence, cannot find anything to condemn him. Such a man, sir, is ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois."

THE UNKINDEST "CUT" OF ALL.—Even Harper's publications are now "cut" by the south. The Savannah, Ga., News of the 10th says:

"We learn that on yesterday all the book-houses in this city, who have heretofore sold Harper's Weekly and Monthly publications, closed their accounts with the publishers, and returned the copies on hand. The Weekly opened with a biographical sketch and full length portrait of Abe Lincoln, the illustrious rail-splitter."

The portrait and sketch of LINCOLN did the business for Harper. All its past devotion to the south was insufficient to atone for so gross an indignity.

HORRIBLE.—The Fort Wayne (Indiana) Times says that a most terrible tragedy occurred in that state, a few days previous.—A woman about to churn butter, threw some boiling water in the churn, into which her little girl had, unnoticed by the mother, placed an infant, and it was instantly scalded to death. In her frenzy the mother seized a chair and inflicted a death blow upon the little girl. After realizing what she had done, she threw herself into the well, and was drowned.

PREPARING TO LEAVE.—The Boston Post, whose editor has a fat situation in the custom house, has the following advertisement in its editorial columns:

To BE LET.—A very pleasant desk in the Boston Custom House, for four years. Apply to Abraham Lincoln.

RETURNING REASON.—The latest southern dispatches show signs of returning good sense in the cotton states. Gov. Aiken, the heaviest slaveholder in South Carolina, has come out against secession. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, has made a powerful and telling speech against the fire-eaters. Other indications show that the insane furor is abating.
